

Herschel's World of Economics

A workshop for teachers grades K-5

When: Tuesday, March 23, 2010; 4 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Where: Center for Teaching & Learning
4555 Central Avenue, LC 1600
Columbus, IN 47203

Who: Social Studies Teachers in Grades K-5

Interested in a creative way to introduce basic economics to your K-5 students? Use the new Herschel's World of Economics DVD. Your students will be charmed by Herschel, a feisty puppet dog who thinks he knows a lot about economics, but still has a lot to learn. Dr. Day comes to the rescue to teach Herschel the important economic concepts he needs to learn. The DVD contains six complete 10-minute programs covering 13 key concepts covered in the economics portion of the Indiana Social Studies Standards. For more about Herschel, go to www.kidseconposters.com.

You will do a lesson from the revised Play Dough Economics curriculum and will learn about children's literature books that teach economic concepts.

What You Receive: You will receive a copy of the revised Play Dough Economics curriculum, a free copy of the Herschel DVD, and also a free set of KidsEcon Posters, Set A. These colorful 11 posters cover the concepts taught in the Herschel DVD.

The value of all curriculum materials you will receive is $65.

Cost: NO COST to you! Light refreshments will be provided.

Sponsors: Center for Teaching & Learning - Columbus
Indiana Council for Economic Education

Space is limited! Register by March 12.

Register online by at www.columbusctl.com or

Phone 812.314.8709 for payment by check or school purchase order.