

Furry Friends Economics:

An Economics and Personal Finance Workshop for Elementary Teachers!

Come learn from an experienced classroom teacher how easy it is to teach economics and financial literacy while meeting your reading and writing standards... using literacy stations and much more!

Furry Friends Economics:

Grades K-3

January 31, 2019; 4:30-7:00pm
Central Indiana Ed Service Center
3500 DePauw Blvd.
Pyramid Two—Suite 200,
Indianapolis, IN

Register by January 24, 2019
econed-in.org

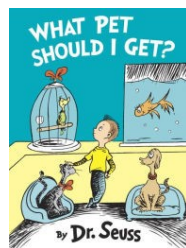

For more information, contact:
Terri L. Crews, Program Coordinator
IUPUI Center for Economic Education
317-274-8100; tcrews@iupui.edu

It's never too early to introduce students to economics and sound personal finance skills! And what better, more classroom-friendly way than through children's stories!

This workshop focuses on an engaging way to teach economics and financial literacy to the youngest students...by introducing them to books featuring animals! Your students will learn all about goods and services, opportunity cost, productive resources, and economic wants. The workshop will feature hands-on lesson demonstrations from Betty Bunny Wants Everything, Beatrice's Goat, What Pet Should I Get?, A New Coat for Anna, Clever Cat, Fleas, and The Three Little Pigs and the Somewhat Bad Wolf.

Come discover how exploring the economic and financial literacy content found in nearly all children's books will get your students excited about the economic way of thinking and make them better decision-makers, while at the same time help develop their reading comprehension, writing, and listening and speaking skills. Every teacher will take home lots of ready-to-use lessons and at least one of the books featured in the workshop! PGP points and dinner will be provided, too! Space is limited! The only cost is your time. Sign up today!

To register, visit econed-in.org