

Mini-Economy Banking Program – Permission to Use

May 20, 2004

Dear Educators and School Administrators:

We are glad that you plan on using the Mini-Economy Banking Program© (MEBP) in your classroom, and we are confident that you and your students will find it very useful. The MEBP was developed by the Indiana Council for Economic Education (ICEE – www.econed-in.org) to accompany the popular Mini-Economy curriculum. The Mini-Economy curriculum is available from the National Council for Economic Education (www.ncee.net)

There is no fee or licensing arrangement for using the MEBP. Schools may use it freely to help in classroom instruction. This letter constitutes permission for schools to use the MEBP for instructional purposes. The program may not be reproduced or sold in any form.

ICEE trusts that teachers will find the MEBP useful in giving students the economics and financial skills they will need to prosper in the 21st century.

For further information, contact the Indiana Council for Economic Education.